JESUS CALLING OR SMITH WIGGLESWORTH

A Heavenly Citizenship

For our citizenship is in heaven.

—Philippians 3:20

Scripture reading: Philippians 3

*T*he law is truly “our tutor to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by faith” (Gal. 3:24). I am glad that laws are established on the earth. Law is good when it helps to keep things in order in society.

But, beloved, we belong to a higher, nobler citizenship, and it isn’t an earthly citizenship, for “our citizenship is in heaven” (Phil. 3:20). So we must see that there is an excellent glory about this position we are holding in Christ. For if the natural law will keep an earthly city in somewhat moderate conditions, what will the excellent glory be in the divine relationship of the citizenship to which we belong?

All those who are getting ready for this glorious eternity have a consciousness of God within. God is working to change their very natures, preparing them for greater things. There is only perfect purification in looking upward to God. All the saints of God who get the real vision of this wonderful transformation are seeing every day that the world is getting worse and worse. It is ripening for Judgment. God is bringing us to a place where we who are spiritual are have a clear vision that we must, at any cost, put off the works of darkness; we must be getting ourselves ready for the glorious Day—the excellent glory.

I call it an excellent glory because it outshines everything else. It makes all the people feel a longing to go to heaven. What there is about the excellent glory is this: the earth is filled with broken hearts, but the excellent glory is filled with redeemed men and women, filled with the excellency of the graces of the glory of God. Oh, the excellent glory is marvelous! Ah, praise the Lord, O my soul! Hallelujah!

Thought for today: There is no gravity to the spirit. There is no gravity to thought. There is no gravity to inspiration. There is no gravity to divine union with Christ. It is above all; it rises higher; it sits on the throne; it claims it purposes.

WE MUST NOT MISS THE MESSAGE

by David Wilkerson | July 9, 2015

[May 19, 1931 – April 27, 2011]

Ministers and theologians everywhere are saying, "God has nothing to do with disasters. He wouldn't allow awful things to happen." Yet, nothing could be further from the truth. This kind of thinking is causing our nation to rapidly miss the message God wants to speak to us through tragedy.

The fact is, we have to have a word from God. Like many pastors, I've wept and grieved over awful calamities. I've sought the Lord in prayer and through His Word. And I want to tell you, I've experienced a grief that's even deeper than the mourning for innocent people dying. It's a grief that says if we miss God's message, if we turn a deaf ear to what He is loudly proclaiming, then much worse is in store for us.

The prophet Isaiah speaks directly to what we've experienced. If you object to using the Old Testament for examples, consider Paul's words on the subject: "All these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come" (1 Corinthians 10:11). Paul makes it clear that the examples of the Old Testament reveal just how God moves in times like ours.

At the time that Isaiah prophesied, God had been dealing patiently with Israel for about 250 years. The Lord had sent "light afflictions" upon His people, calling them to repentance. He was trying to woo them out of their brazen idolatry and back into His blessing and favor.

All the prophets throughout the years had spoken to Israel the same essential word: "Humble yourselves." Scripture says, "They served idols . . . yet the Lord testified against Israel, and against Judah, by all the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes" (2 Kings 17:12-13).

But God's chosen nation rejected His call to repentance. "They would not hear, but hardened their necks" (17:14). These people mocked the prophets who called them to humility. And, instead, they "followed vanity, and became vain . . . and they left all the commandments of the Lord their God . . . and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord. . . . Therefore the Lord was very angry with Israel" (2 Kings 17:15-18).

Author

Milton William "Bill" Cooper was an American conspiracy theorist, radio broadcaster, and author best known for his 1991 book Behold a Pale Horse, in which he warned of multiple global conspiracies, some involving extraterrestrial aliens. Wikipedia

Amazingly Bill Cooper, the author of Behold a Pale Horse, made the following statement on page 177 of the book. “Can you imagine what will happen if Los Angeles is hit with a 9.0 quake, New York City is destroyed by a terrorist-planted atomic bomb, World War III breaks out in the Middle East, the banks and stock markets collapse, Extraterrestrials land on the White House lawn, food disappears from the markets, some people disappear, the Messiah presents himself to the world, and all in a very short period of time? Can you imagine? The world power structure can, and will if necessary, make some or all of these things happen to bring about the New World Order.” [Behold A Pale Horse“, p. 177-8]

GREAT QUOTES

INTENSIFIED PREVAILING PRAYER

Intensified prevailing prayer is God's ordained law and method for implementing His redemptive plan in this age till Jesus returns. It is the highest, holiest, and mightiest effort of which a child of God is capable. It is God's chosen way to bring heaven's power, heaven's resources, and heaven's angels into action on earth.

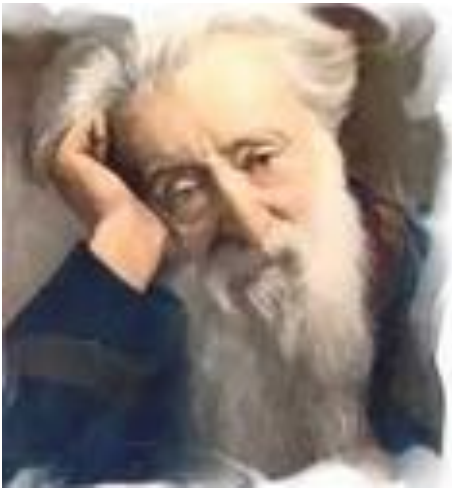

Spurgeon says, "He who knows how to overcome with God in prayer has heaven and earth at his disposal." 1 Intensified prayer is clothed with the might of God Himself.

Duewel, Wesley L. (2013-08-20). Mighty Prevailing Prayer:

General Booth

“Not called!’ did you say?

‘Not heard the call,’ I think you should say.

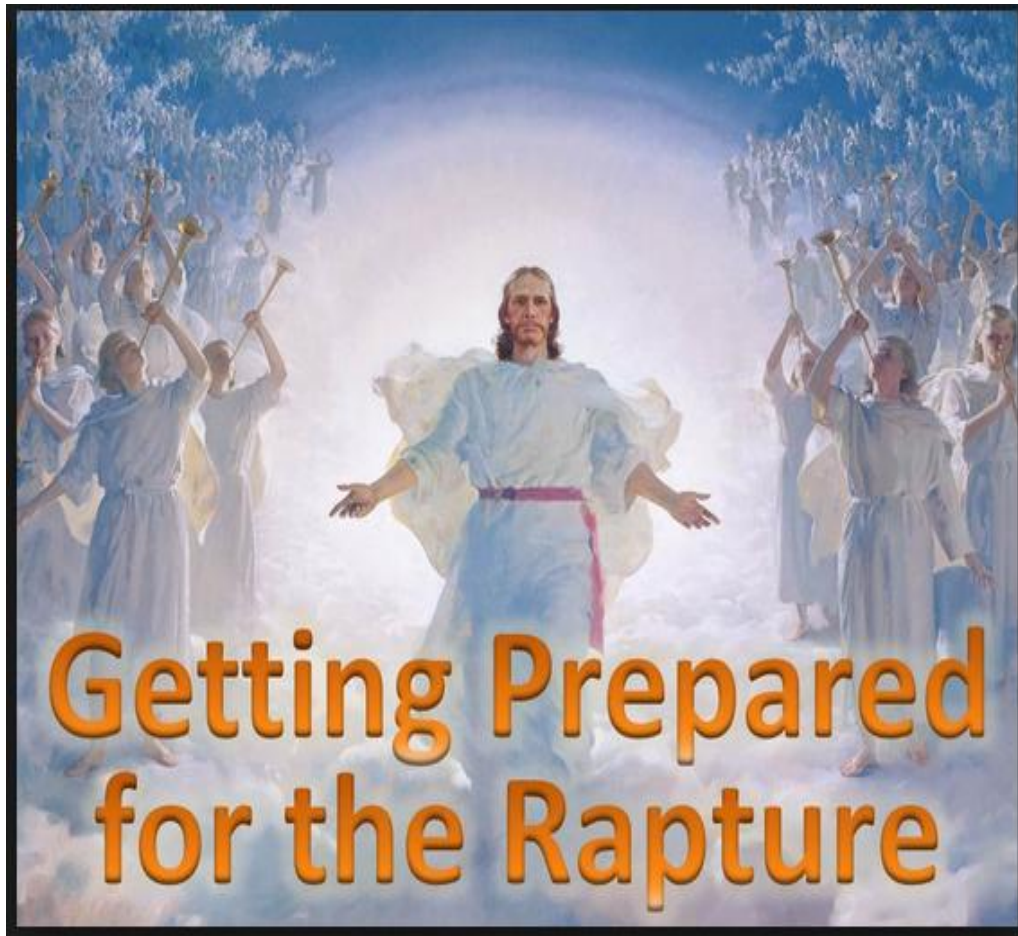

Put your ear down to the Bible, and hear Him bid you go and pull sinners out of the fire of sin. Put your ear down to the burdened, agonized heart of humanity, and listen to its pitiful wail for help. Go stand by the gates of hell, and hear the damned entreat you to go to their father's house and bid their brothers and sisters and servants and masters not to come there. Then look Christ in the face — whose mercy you have professed to obey — and tell Him whether you will join heart and soul and body and circumstances in the march to publish His mercy to the world.”

Humility in Daily Life

00- Humility by Andrew Murray –

Tribulation Now

(6 minutes)

If someone says, 'I love God,' but hates a Christian brother or sister, that person is a liar; for if we don't love people we can see, how can we love God, whom we have not seen? (1 John 4:20) Here's a sobering thought:

God measures our love for Him by the love we show our brothers and sisters in every day fellowship with them. It is a serious thing to realize that our love for God just isn't genuine if it fails the test of daily life with our fellow human beings. The same thing is true with humility. It is easy to think we humble ourselves before God. But humility before people is the only real proof that our humility before God is more than just a figment of our imagination. It is the only true evidence that humility has made a home in our hearts and become our nature. How can we know that we, like Christ, have made ourselves of no reputation? By the reality check of daily life. When in God's presence humility has become more than just a feeling we have when we think about Him or pray, but instead the very Spirit of our lives, it will show itself in the way we treat our brothers and sisters.

This lesson is crucial. The only humility that really belongs to us is not what we try to show before God in prayer, but what we carry with us and live out when we get up off our knees. The insignificance of daily life is the test of eternity. It proves what Spirit really possesses us. It is in our unguarded moments when we show who we really are. To know the humble man, you have to follow him around and watch his daily life.

Isn't that lesson exactly what Jesus taught? His great teachings about humility came when He saw the disciples arguing about who was greatest or the Pharisees competing for the place of honor at banquets and in synagogues. He taught again after He had given them an example by washing their feet. Humility before God is nothing if it isn't proved by humility before men. Paul of course taught the same practical lesson. To the Romans, he wrote: "Love each other with genuine affection and take delight in honoring each other...Live in harmony with each other. Don't try to act important, but enjoy the company of ordinary people. And don't think you know it all!"(Romans 12:10,16). To the Corinthians, he said: "Love is not jealous or boastful or proud or rude. Love does not demand its own way" (1 Corinthians 13:4-5). There is no love except what grows from the root of humility! To the Galatians, Paul wrote:

"For you have been called to freedom...freedom to serve one another in love...Let us not become conceited, or irritate one another, or be jealous of one another" (Galatians 5:13,26). To the Ephesians, right after those three wonderful chapters about living in Heavenly Realms, he said, "Be humble and gentle. Be patient with each other" (Ephesians 4:2). "And further, you will submit to one another out of reverence for Christ" (Ephesians 5:21). To the Philippians, Paul wrote: "Make me truly happy by agreeing wholeheartedly with each other, loving one another, and working together with one heart and purpose. Don't be selfish; don't live to make a good impression on others. Be humble, thinking of others as better than yourself...Your attitude should be the same as that Christ Jesus had...He made Himself nothing; He took the humble position of a slave and appeared in human form. And in human form He obediently humbled Himself even further by dying a criminal's death on the cross" (Philippians 2:3, 5, 7-8).

Col 3:12-17

12 Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender mercies, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; 13 bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do. 14 But above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfection. 15 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body; and be thankful. 16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

NKJV

BE NICE TO EACHOTHER

Col 3:12-15

12 Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender mercies, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; 13 bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do. 14 But above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfection.

“Humility is perfect quietness of heart. It is to expect nothing, to wonder at nothing that is done to me, to feel nothing done against me. It is to be at rest when nobody praises me, and when I am blamed or despised. It is to have a blessed home in the Lord, where I can go in and shut the door, and kneel to my Father in secret, and am at peace as in a deep sea of calmness, when all around and above is trouble.”

GODLY WARNING PLEASE DISCERN

A real quick word to the wise heart, any of these prophecies and prophets could prove to be wrong or become incorrect at any time. There are also "non-prophetic" sources added to this document to add additional information for your discernment.

We All See Through the Mirror Dimly

1 Cor 13:12

For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know just as I also am known.

Tracking visions, dreams, and prophecies is always very challenging. Remember the devil seeks whom he may devour so we must always seek Jesus first, and trust in God alone, not "man".

If you decide to track the prophetic information from any of these sources, please watch and pray and remember that we must discern and measure all things against the Bible.

Deut 18:22

Please Commit the Verse to Memory

When a prophet speaks in the name of the Lord, if the thing does not happen or come to pass, that is the thing which the Lord has not spoken; the prophet has spoken it presumptuously; you shall not be afraid of him.

THE VOICE OF THE VICTORIOUS CHRIST
by David Wilkerson
[May 19, 1931 – April 27, 2011]

WE MUST LISTEN TO GOD'S PROPHECIES
OR FACE RUIN / DESTRUCTION

When God said, "Once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven" (Hebrews 12:26), He was saying, in essence, "I shook the earth at Mount Sinai. But when I speak in these last days, My voice will shake both the natural and spiritual worlds. The status quo will tremble; nothing will remain as it is. Whatever is called religious—all that is of Christ or the Church—will be shaken by the voice of My Son speaking from heaven."

God had warned Israel that all who refuse to listen to His prophet would be brought to account: "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which he shall speak in my name, I will require it of him" (Deuteronomy 18:19). He was saying, "I'm going to pursue every disobedience—and you'll account for it all."

Scripture reveals that those who ignored the words of God's prophets fell into ruin. They became withered and bitter, dying without any joy or peace.

See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven" (Hebrews 12:25).

Beloved, neither will we escape God's wrath—either as a nation or as individuals. And right now Jesus' voice is shaking every nation, causing institutions, leaders and economies to tremble. He is saying to the wind and the elements, "Blow upon the earth." He is saying to the clouds, "Withhold rain." He is saying to the economies of the world, "All greed—be judged."

God is also commanding, "Prisons, shake. Governments, shake. Financial systems, shake. Schools, shake. Military forces, shake. Courts and legislatures, shake. Everything on earth, shake until there is no foundation left but the Lord."

It is not the devil who is shaking everything. The whole world is being shaken by the voice of the victorious Christ. The Man in glory has risen in power upon His throne and He is speaking a word to shake all things.

Do Not Delay

Aug 18, 2015 10:53 am | Glynda Linkous

I was inquiring of the Lord about America and other nations and the time of judgment, and asking the Lord what we could expect and what we should do, when I began sensing a very dark, very violent storm approaching the East Coast of America, and Washington, D.C. in particular. I saw very dark, swirling clouds and waters, but overall I sensed "violent." In my spirit I saw a giant hand pick up a wicked man, and I saw he could not escape. The hand picked up the man in a way that caused the man's face to look upwards. I saw his fear, and that he knew there was no escape. I knew in my spirit the righteous were safe, they were being protected from its destruction. And I knew just as well that the wicked could not escape,

The time has come, My people, for what is wrong to be made right. My plan of justice will now play out for each nation and its inhabitants.

I desire you would make the wrongs in your life right. Grant forgiveness where there has been only anger. Ask forgiveness where it is needed. Be sure all in your house is in order for My coming.

(I felt He meant visitations – but I feel VERY STRONGLY that we need to do this before mid-September this year.)

Show kindness to those who grieve and give to those in need. Do not put off these things – do them now! What you receive in time to come depends on this.

Pray. Pray daily, and many times a day for those you love and that I may save the lost. Do not delay or let the enemy distract you from prayer as it is of the utmost importance.

Do not delay – you have asked to know My heart. You have asked what you should do. These are My instructions to you.

Obey Me now.

WE MUST NOT MISS THE MESSAGE

by David Wilkerson | July 9, 2015

[May 19, 1931 – April 27, 2011]

Ministers and theologians everywhere are saying, "God has nothing to do with disasters. He wouldn't allow awful things to happen." Yet, nothing could be further from the truth. This kind of thinking is causing our nation to rapidly miss the message God wants to speak to us through tragedy.

The fact is, we have to have a word from God. Like many pastors, I've wept and grieved over awful calamities. I've sought the Lord in prayer and through His Word. And I want to tell you, I've experienced a grief that's even deeper than the mourning for innocent people dying. It's a grief that says if we miss God's message, if we turn a deaf ear to what He is loudly proclaiming, then much worse is in store for us.

The prophet Isaiah speaks directly to what we've experienced. If you object to using the Old Testament for examples, consider Paul's words on the subject: "All these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come" (1 Corinthians 10:11). Paul makes it clear that the examples of the Old Testament reveal just how God moves in times like ours.

At the time that Isaiah prophesied, God had been dealing patiently with Israel for about 250 years. The Lord had sent "light afflictions" upon His people, calling them to repentance. He was trying to woo them out of their brazen idolatry and back into His blessing and favor.

All the prophets throughout the years had spoken to Israel the same essential word: "Humble yourselves." Scripture says, "They served idols . . . yet the Lord testified against Israel, and against Judah, by all the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my statutes" (2 Kings 17:12-13).

But God's chosen nation rejected His call to repentance. "They would not hear, but hardened their necks" (17:14). These people mocked the prophets who called them to humility. And, instead, they "followed vanity, and became vain . . . and they left all the commandments of the Lord their God . . . and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord. . . . Therefore the Lord was very angry with Israel" (2 Kings 17:15-18).

The Vision of the 12 Houses

(by C. Alan Martin 1971)

C. Alan Martin had a vision back in 1971 prophetically depicting 12 presidents of the United States. The “LAST” President was unknown to him even after updating the information in the late 90’s. We know today that the “LAST” President would have been Barack Obama. This is what the prophecy says about this 12th House or President.

House 12 President: ?

This is the last house that I saw in this vision of the night. After this house was a dirt path that lead toward a collection of boulders arraigned in a semi circle which reminded me of a place where a trial was held and judgment rendered. In another dream which took place during the millennial age, I was standing among these rock looking at the ruins of a world rocked by the (great) tribulation. In the ruins of these boulders I found a witch doll. I knew immediately that one (sic) of the reasons that the USA was judged was because she had gone after the occult and witchcraft.

Across from the path after house #12 was a new row of houses stretching off into the distance. These I believe are the rulers of the land that Jesus will set up during the millennium.

In the vision of the night (after I saw the star fall to the earth)

[Note: Could this be the Puerto Rico Comet event?]

I heard a voice say “Look to the east”. I began to turn and fully expected to see Jesus coming in the clouds. As I turned I saw the clouds part and I saw the blood moon and the dark sun.

[Note: This is the Sixth Seal Rev 6:12-17]

Both of these are symbolic of judgment being levied on a nation and the fall of a nation. I continued turning to the east and saw the ancient army approaching from the east through the yards of all the houses of the presidents.

[Note: This is Russia and China moving / conquering from the East to West and USA, Gog/Magog Ezekiel 38, 39]

It was then that I ran down to join this army in the yard of the house of Nixon. This was 1971, the year I was saved.

Immediately the scene changed and I was in the middle of a city in gray ruins. I saw a man emerge from what I perceived to be a “temple fortress” who was dressed in a diplomatic suit and carrying a briefcase. A voice said “He claims to be God, but is of devil”.

[Note: This is Obama, the Antichrist]

Then the dream ended.

The Year Ahead

The year ahead shall be fraught with perils, My children. I am shaking those things that can be shaken in order to show those that believe Me not their great need of a savior. They will not turn their hearts to Me until they see they can no longer save themselves.

My children who walk with me know they need not fear. Every earthly kingdom will I shake. Every union and alliance not built on Me, will I also shake.

It is imperative that My people are clinging to and relying on Me and My Word alone. If you have placed your faith in anything other than Me, I shall expose it to you as I shake you loose from it.

Times coming will require your absolute, undivided loyalty to Me only. Any allegiance to the Evil One will be your destruction in that time.

I am coming back for a bride without spot or blemish!

PASTOR TD HALE DREAMS

The TD Hale Dream Locks these Events to 2016

Moreover we have the prophetic dream given to pastor TD Hale in December of 2011 showing the nuclear destruction of the United States WHILE Obama is in the Office of the President. Here is a LINK to the dreams in text format. Hale not only saw the destruction of the US (burnt from end to end, totally destroyed) but he also saw the aftermath with people hiding from the FEMA police and soldiers. He also saw the FEMA prison camps in operation and saw the "trains" (FEMA Trains) at those facilities used to transport the victims to their fate.

Here is the audio clip from the TruNews Show.

LINK HERE

Please Note: It is crucially important to note, with the exception of the Obama Presidency timeline, the TD Hale dream matches the testimony of many other Godly sources including:

- AA Alan's Vision from 1954
- Dimitru Duduman's Visitation from 1983
- Henry Gruver's Vision from the late 80's

There are others as well. To listen to these testimonies you can go to this page (Apocalyptic Signs – Prophecies and Predictions HERE.)

Russian Kremlin Pastor Says Orchestrated Financial Collapse will Precede Planned Nuclear Attack on US

For example, here below is an audio clip of David Herzog speaking with Paul Keith Davis on an April 13th, 2013 Webinar that was unfortunately later removed by the Davis ministry.

Here brother Herzog testifies that he met with a Russian pastor who works at the Kremlin. Reportedly Herzog was told "they" are planning an orchestrated financial collapse of the United States (and other nations) AND "they" intend to set off a nuclear attack on the west coast of the US as well. He also mentions that he has confirmed Russian and Chinese troops are working inside the US borders at the invitation of the US government.

THE THIRD SECRET OF FATIMA

Evidently, according to this author (below), Father Malachi Martin reported that the Third Secret of Fatima was ultimately the Rev 6:12-14 “pole shift” and the First Trumpet CME (solar flare). The most amazing part is that this is reportedly to happen

POLE SHIFT
2017

Revelation 6:14
;and every mountain and island was moved out of its place.
NKJV

by 2017 Fatima author Father Malachi Martin has said that “the Third Secret is your worst nightmare, multiplied exponentially.”

(<http://www.tldm.org/News10/MalachiMartinBelievedInBayside.htm>)

In an interview with Art Bell in 1997, he explained that “I was shown the Text of the third secret in February 1960. I cooled my heels in the corridor outside the Holy Father's apartments, while my Boss, Cardinal Bea, was inside debating with the Holy Father (Pope John XXIII), and with a other group of other bishops and priests, and two young Portuguese seminarians, who translated the letter, a single page, written in Portuguese..... on the content of the Third Secret, Sister Lucy one day replied: 'It's in the Gospel, and in the Apocalypse, read them.' We even know that one day Lucy indicated Chapters 8, 13 of the Apocalypse.

<http://garabandalnews.verblog.com/2014/01/fatima-3rd-secret-and-facts.html>)

Father Martin said of the fulfillment of the Third Secret that these events are “not 200 years away, it is not 50 years away, it is not 20 years away...” He expressed the view that major portions of end times events would be underway before the centennial of the Marian apparitions (before May 13, 2017.)

Multiple Blood Moon Tetrad High Holy Days

While solar and lunar eclipses are common occurrences and for the most part have no great prophetic significance, when they fall on the biblical Feast days, we should pay close attention. In Revelation 6:12, the Bible declares that the sun will become black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon as red as blood. Most scholars believe this important end-times sign is speaking of solar and lunar eclipses. The significance of a total solar eclipse or total lunar eclipse, if it happened on one of God's Feast days would be a powerful message. Knowing this, be advised there are four total blood moons coming, back to back, right in a row, all falling on Feast days. Equally incredible is how within the very same timeframe, two solar eclipses are scheduled to arrive. Read that again and let the significance of these comments sink in. Prophetically speaking, we are talking about the equivalent of six grand-slam homeruns in a row—a mathematical improbability that stands out against the randomness of natural cycles and strongly suggests a miraculous sign or “omen” of intelligent design is coming. Of significance to this book is how these “grand slams” are set to unfold between the years 2012-2016, specifically 2014 and 2015.

(Open Doors) — Lujah* is in her early seventies. She lives with her younger sister and nephew. They were inhabitants of Mosul, Iraq until the early morning of June 10, 2014. It was on this morning that friends knocked on their door impatiently, urging them to leave.

"We were living at our house with dignity, but suddenly, we had to leave everything behind," she shares. "I only took a bag of clothes and I grabbed my Bible. We headed right to Qaraqosh, a city near Mosul where a lot of Christians used to live."

Not more than two months later, they were also driven from Qaraqosh by the Islamic State and fled to Erbil.

What happened to their house? They heard everything was stolen from it and that the "N-sign" (symbol used by IS to identify who is a Nazarene – a Christian) was written on their house after they left.

Nuclear Physicist Declares: 'Science Will Never Contradict The Bible'

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa – An accomplished nuclear physicist has recently expressed outspoken support for the Genesis creation account, arguing that the evolutionary worldview “fails dismally” in its description of scientific reality.

Dr. Brandon van der Ventel is a nuclear physicist with a Ph.D. from South Africa’s Stellenbosch University, where he currently teaches theoretical nuclear physics. Van der Ventel’s specialties include biological systems, physics education, and computational physics.

In an interview with Christian News Network, van der Ventel explained why—as a physicist—he firmly believes the literal, historical interpretation of the Bible’s creation account. The theory of evolution, he explained, is scientifically unsubstantiated.

“The final arbiter of any theory must be based on the strength of its description of physical reality,” he said. “It is in this respect that the theory of evolution fails dismally.”

Not only is the second law of thermodynamics “a powerful argument against chemical evolution,” van der Ventel stated, but the very dating methods evolutionists cite are mostly supported by assumptions—not physics.

<http://christiannews.net/2015/08/03/nuclear-physicist-declares-science-will-never-contradict-the-bible/>

Van der Ventel asserted that “all scientific evidence has always and will always support the Bible.”

“Science will never contradict the Bible,” he said. “The reason is very simple: the Author of Scripture is also the Creator. That is what we as Christians should believe and promulgate at all times. It is a false dichotomy to think that the Bible and Science are in opposition. Even Christians fall into this mode of thinking due to the vicious and unrelenting propaganda.”

War in Space May Be Closer Than Ever

China, Russia and the U.S. are developing and testing controversial new capabilities to wage war in space despite their denial of such work

By Lee Billings | August 10, 2015

The world's most worrisome military flashpoint is arguably not in the Strait of Taiwan, the Korean Peninsula, Iran, Israel, Kashmir or Ukraine. In fact, it cannot be located on any map of Earth, even though it is very easy to find. To see it, just look up into a clear sky, to the no-man's-land of Earth orbit, where a conflict is unfolding that is an arms race in all but name.

The emptiness of outer space might be the last place you'd expect militaries to vie over contested territory, except that outer space isn't so empty anymore. About 1,300 active satellites wreath the globe in a crowded nest of orbits, providing worldwide communications, GPS navigation, weather forecasting and planetary surveillance. For militaries that rely on some of those satellites for modern warfare, space has become the ultimate high ground, with the U.S. as the undisputed king of the hill. Now, as China and Russia aggressively seek to challenge U.S. superiority in space with ambitious military space programs of their own, the power struggle risks sparking a conflict that could cripple the entire planet's space-based infrastructure. And though it might begin in space, such a conflict could easily ignite full-blown war on Earth.

Anti-satellite missile tests, like this one conducted by the U.S. Navy in February 2008, are part of a worrisome march toward military conflict in outer space.

Aliens came to Earth to stop a nuclear war between America and Russia, according the bizarre claim of a former astronaut.

Edgar Mitchell, the sixth man to walk on the moon, says high-ranking military officials witnessed alien ships during weapons tests throughout the 1940s.

The UFOs, he says, were spotted hovering over the world's first nuclear weapons test which took place on July 16, 1945 in the desolate White Sands deserts of New Mexico.

UPDATE FROM THE HOSTS

August 12, 2015

All right, now. We have asked to speak with you today because we are dealing with a very dynamic situation and there have been some changes that we would like to disclose to you at this time.

The "loyal opposition" (the elites) have been going forward with their plans for a global totalitarian regime and have hit some unexpected complications that require them to delay certain actions on their part until they have worked out solutions that will allow them to proceed with a reasonable expectation for their success.

OUR timing is dependent on their timing, because we are expecting to carry out the evacuation during the time of chaos that we expect to follow the financial collapse, and to complete it before a comprehensive system of controls is put in place in response to the predictable outcry for someone to "Do something!" about the chaos itself. We also have to factor in the upcoming time of cataclysms and the end of the time dilation itself, so our timing is going to be delayed and must therefore also be shortened, in order to complete the evacuation within those opposing constraints.

This will result in a greatly intensified effort on our part and also in a greatly intensified climate of crisis all around the world. By putting off the financial collapse, when it finally does happen, it will be even more severe than it would have if it had occurred sooner. This, in turn, will result in an even more intense reaction from people all over the world, and therefore things are going to be much more turbulent than they would have been if this had occurred earlier. It's similar to a pressure cooker that builds up even greater pressure the longer the heat continues to build under it without letting some of the pressure to escape in the form of steam.

What this means is that your preparations to get through that period of chaos won't need to cover as long a period of time, and you won't need to begin using them quite as soon as we had expected, but do not expect this present delay to be very long — perhaps a month to six weeks of your time. If you have not finished your preparations, we urge you to do so now because when this collapse comes, it will be even more difficult to obtain necessities than it would have been before.

The tipping point that we spoke about in June has now occurred and a rapid and progressive economic deterioration is under way at this time. In addition, those who are vying with each other to end up the winner(s) in this global competition for resources and assets are becoming even more determined in their efforts to maintain and increase their position, so the opportunities for "power plays" are also increasing in frequency and scope. This also means that the amount of money needed to sustain these efforts is also increasing, which will also act to intensify the financial collapse when it occurs. Everything is so interconnected that nothing will be unaffected or immune to the effects of what is coming, so the grand finale we spoke about in December is going to be even more "grand" than we expected.

Oddly enough, this takes things to a much higher level for us and for everyone that we work with. It somehow brings in more energy when things are more tightly focused and concentrated within a shorter period of time. We suspect that most women would prefer a shorter period of labor in delivering a child than a longer one. It seems natural to be willing and able to put forth a stronger effort over a short period of time than to sustain that level of effort over a longer period of time.

A very different approach is needed when running a marathon than when sprinting for a shorter distance, so what this will translate to is a greater number of hands available to share the work and the need for more space in which to carry it out, so that there is room for everyone who is needed to be present at the same time and in essentially the same space. We are adapting accordingly and it gives us great pleasure to contemplate the increased scale of the "op" due to this compression created through the delayed timing of the financial collapse and the amount of time remaining before the cataclysms make things difficult for the evacuation to complete.

We would also like to comment on another development, one that we did not originally anticipate. In addition to the various factions of the elite competing with each other to be the ones in control of everything else, there are various extraterrestrial races competing with each other to fulfill their own agendas, so there are a number of surprising alliances taking place between different civilizations that do not normally associate with each other. Each of these civilizations has different goals and different reasons for wanting things to go a certain way so that their "future" ends up the way they want it to be.

The particular time and location in which you are expressing through your physical bodies is energetically rich, containing many alternative potentials that can be accessed by those who know how to navigate the fabric of space and time in such a way that they can jump timelines and alter outcomes through the choices they make. What this means is that some groups that have been subservient to certain races (such as the reptilians) are allying with various groups of humans and other civilizations to collectively negate the absolute rule the reptilians have historically held for the present planet and to prevent them from completing their plans for total control and domination of the planet and everything upon it.

We had anticipated that our collective fleets would have to singlehandedly engage with the reptilian presence in 3D Earth's airspace and remove it, but now some of that work is being done by others, who have their own reasons for doing so. For now, we are watching and waiting to see how that goes.

We have been continuing to work on the erasure of the cellular memory in each and every person who is part of Operation Terra, and it may not now be necessary to actually engage in a space war to heal the wounds of the past from having dealt with the reptilians in other times and places. This would alter many things, including what each person will experience and be part of.

It is also possible that we may still engage in a space war, but in cooperation with other fleets that we would not have allied with before. All of this is being worked on and sorted out at present, so we ask you to be patient a little while longer because these current developments could mean far less pain and loss if they can be negotiated successfully.

OUR goal is to assist the planet in becoming Terra. Ultimately, that will assure the reversal of the prior trend where the negative polarity was destroying everything it came in contact with, and would subsequently restore the galaxy (and ultimately the entire manifest reality) to its former estate. We have no attachment to how the details work out along the way and if an opportunity arises to achieve our goal with less pain and loss, we are glad to take it, as long as it furthers our goal of bringing Terra to fruition.

Everything exists solely to provide experience for the Creator, and no experience is preferred over any other BY the Creator, so if we can achieve our goal regarding Terra in a less stressful and painful way, all the better!

We are willing to do whatever it takes to complete our mission for planet Earth. We have been working toward this time for centuries — indeed since the birth of the planet herself. From the perspective of the elohim, the planet is our child, and — like good parents — we have had to accompany our creation through its birth, childhood, adolescence, and to assist it in achieving its full flowering as 4D Terra, a cultural center for the entire galaxy and a living paradise for every lifeform upon it.

So, the bottom line to all of this is that you will have a slightly longer time to enjoy your days as 3D humans, and then the “days will be shortened,” during which we will conduct the evacuation against a very intense backdrop of chaos, turbulence, and turmoil. We encourage you to listen to the Operation Terra anthem again, and pay special attention to the transition from the more energetic opening notes to the higher, gentler and more soothing notes that musically trace the passage that you will be experiencing in the days ahead.

At first things will seem quite dramatic and the approach of the evacuation will come as a welcome relief. But then things will become easier and lift you free of the turmoil playing out on the ground until you are safely tucked away on the ships and on Midway Station. Finally, you will come into your own true nature as divine beings, worthy of grace and ease in every moment of your existence. All the struggle, deprivation, pain, and noise will drop away and you will find yourself at home with others of like inclination, experiencing the peace, quiet joy, and love that you have always innately felt was your birthright but did not know where or how to find it.

Amen, Adonoy Sabayoth. We are the Hosts of Heaven, working as a team with Sananda, and waiting to welcome you home.

This fall and winter's predicted El Niño has the potential to become the most powerful ever recorded and could bring "extreme rainfall" to parched California, but it may not be enough to reverse four years of drought, federal forecasters said Thursday.

"Everything now is going to the right way for El Niño," Patzert said. "If this lines up to its potential, this thing can bring a lot of floods, mudslides and mayhem."

Data showing continued warm sea-surface temperatures in the Pacific Ocean were leading to the prediction of a strong El Niño to peak in late fall or early winter, according to a monthly report released Thursday by the National Weather Service's Climate Prediction Center.

The August report shows a greater than 90 percent chance of El Niño continuing through the Northern Hemisphere in winter, and a roughly 85 percent chance of it lasting until early spring.

While the rest of us watched in horror as tens of thousands died in the tsunamis of 2004 and 2011, two Seattle aerospace designers felt compelled to build a shelter that could protect people from such devastating natural disasters. Since 2011, Julian Sharpe and Scott Hill have actively developed Survival Capsule, a range of pod-like disaster shelters for between two and ten people. While the pair are at pains to note that evacuating is the best plan in such an emergency, the capsules are particularly intended for the very young, the elderly and the infirm who cannot so readily escape.

Almost half of Americans live in places that could be struck by damaging earthquakes

By Elahe Izadi August 11 Follow @ElaheIzadi

Preparing oneself -- emotionally and otherwise -- for the ground to shake is something that half of Americans should consider doing.

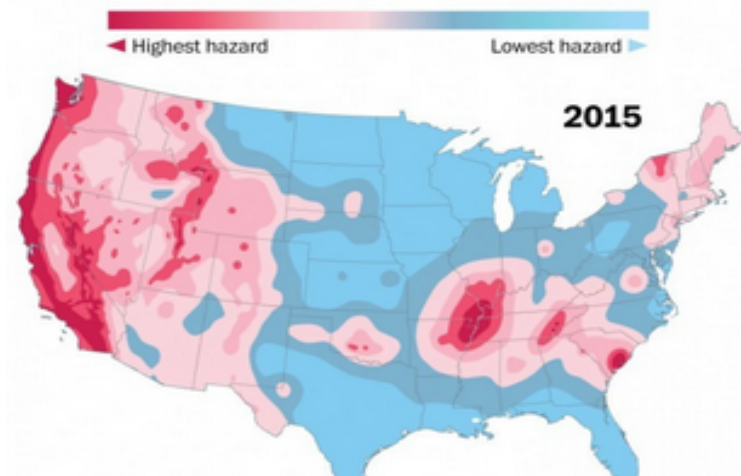

That's because about 143 million people in the 48 contiguous states live in areas at risk for potentially damaging earthquakes, according to U.S. Geological Survey research published Monday in the journal Earthquake Spectra.

Add in Alaska and Hawaii, and just about half of Americans live in potential earthquake areas. Of them, 28 million live in places with "high potential" for ground shaking and 57 million live in "moderate" hazard zones.

These latest figures represent a major increase over previous estimates showing 75 million people living in 39 states were exposed to such a risk.

Greater tsunami risk from Southern California quake, study finds

An earthquake along the California coast could pose a greater tsunami threat to the Ventura area than previously understood, according to a new study published Tuesday by UC Riverside and U.S. Geological Survey scientists.

Published in the journal Geophysical Research Letters, a publication of the American Geophysical Union, the study found that tsunami floodwaters could reach points in the Ventura vicinity beyond the area currently marked in California's official tsunami inundation map. Tsunami wave heights could approach as high as 20 feet in the Ventura Harbor and Channel Islands Beach area near Oxnard.

A California Geological Survey official said the agency will study the report. The agency is in the midst of creating a second edition of tsunami inundation maps after publishing the first version about six years ago.

The latest study comes amid new focus on the earthquake faults that stretch deep under the earth in the Santa Barbara and Ventura areas. Wildfires are exploding across the western United States, overstressing resources and, in some states, resulting in tragic consequences.

Some 30,000 firefighters and additional support staff are now fighting fires across the United States — the biggest number mobilized in 15 years, according to the U.S. Forest Service. And it's still not enough.

Two hundred members of the military are being called up to help further — they will be trained and deployed within just a few days — as are Canadian firefighting forces. There's even some talk of potentially needing to draw on resources from Australia and New Zealand, which has been done before in a pinch.

A measles outbreak in the copper-mining Katanga province in the Democratic Republic of Congo has killed 315 people and infected at least 20,000, the United Nations said on Wednesday.

Hundreds more deaths have likely not been documented due to difficulties accessing remote areas, The U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) said in a draft report on the province's worst outbreak of the disease since 2010-11.

"The measles epidemic in the province of Katanga is only worsening and gaining ground," said the report seen by Reuters.

More than $2.4 million will be needed to organize vaccination drives and treat those already infected in the southeastern province, it said.

Some 1,085 people died and about 77,000 were infected in the 2010-11 epidemic, according to a study in the scientific journal BMC Infectious Diseases.

Third Louisiana Public Water Supply Site Tests Positive for Brain-Eating Amoeba

By Katy Gallimberti, AccuWeather.com Staff Writer

August 19, 2015; 4:00 PM ET

+ Share |

Public officials are in the process of eliminating Naegleria Fowleri, a brain-eating amoeba that thrives in warm water, from another drinking water supply in Louisiana.

Naegleria Fowleri was detected during routine tests on Aug. 5 at a utility district in Terrebonne Parish, Louisiana, roughly 80 miles from New Orleans. A press release was issued on Monday, Aug. 17.

According to the local fire department, the Schriever Water System serves approximately 97,000 residents in the Houma area.

Two other systems in the area were tested with negative results, according to the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals (DHH).

While officials say the water is safe for drinking, residents are urged to use caution with the water, not letting it get into their nose. Humans are infected when water containing the amoeba travels through the nose and migrates to the brain, destroying the tissue.

Superbugs: treatment-resistant head lice have now spread to 25 U.S. states

Posted on August 19, 2015

August 2015 – HEALTH – Just in time for the new school year, head lice have become literal superbugs. Lice have developed a high level of resistance to the most common over-the-counter treatments in 25 states, according to research presented at a meeting of the American Chemical Society. "If you overuse a product, over time, the selection pressure will cause insects to develop resistance to it," Kyong Yoon, an assistant professor of biological and environmental science at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville and lead author of this ongoing research, told a group of journalists.

Rain on China blast city raises pollution and contamination fears – ground water poisoned from massive blast crater?

Posted on August 19, 2015

August 2015 – CHINA – Heavy rain fell Tuesday on the remains of a Chinese industrial site devastated by giant explosions, complicating clean-up efforts and heightening fears about toxic contamination as ceremonies were held to mark the disaster's 114 deaths. Around 700 tons of highly toxic sodium cyanide were at the site in the northern port of Tianjin, officials say, and water could spread it more widely. Rainwater could also disperse chemical residues on the ground into the air when it evaporates, and some of the many substances on the scene could react with it. Amid public anger over the disaster more details about the site operator were reported and a senior work safety official was put under investigation. Officials have insisted the city's air and water are safe, but locals and victims' relatives have voiced skepticism, while international environment group Greenpeace has also urged transparency. "I'm worried because we don't know what's in the rain," said a taxi driver as he made his way through the morning deluge. "It could be full of poison."

Cyanide Thunderstorms Feared As Mystery Deepens Around $1.5 Billion Tianjin Explosion

The story behind the chemical explosion that rocked China's Tianjin port last Wednesday continues to evolve amid fears that the public could be at risk from the hundreds of tonnes of sodium cyanide stored at the facility.

More specifically, Monday's heightened concerns were related to the possibility that rain could interact with the water soluble chemical, releasing deadly hydrogen cyanide gas into the air. "First rain expected today or tonight. Avoid ALL contact with skin," a text message purported to have originated at the US Embassy in Beijing read. The Embassy would later deny the message's authenticity, perhaps at the behest of the Politburo which has kicked off the censorship campaign by shutting down hundreds of social media accounts for "spreading blast rumors."

Despite efforts to preserve order and clamp down on discussion, the anger in China is palpable as citizens demand answers as to how a catastrophe of this magnitude could have happened and as it turns out, not only was Tianjin International Ruihai Logistics storing sodium cyanide in amounts that were orders of magnitude larger than what they were supposed to be storing, but they were apparently doing so without a license. "The company has handled hazardous chemicals during a period without a licence," an unnamed company official said on Tuesday. Apparently, Ruihai received the licenses it needed to handle the chemicals just two months ago, BBC reports, citing Xinhua.

Meanwhile, it looks as though determining who actually owns Ruihai will be complicated by the fact that in China, it's not uncommon for front men to hold shares on behalf of a company's real owners. This is of course an effort to obscure Communist party involvement in some enterprises and as FT reports, "that seems to be the case for Shu Jing and Li Liang, who appear in State Administration of Industry and Commerce records as holding 45 and 55 per cent of Ruihai International Logistics." "Both Mr Shu and Mr Li told Chinese media they were holding their shares on behalf of someone else," FT adds, "but would not say who."

Here's more from FT:

Licensing to operate a hazardous goods warehouse is not easy to come by, and Ruihai Logistics' operation seems to have been approved after neighbouring lots had already been auctioned to residential developers.

Adding to the speculation, Tianjin's online corporate registry database was inaccessible for four days after the blasts. When access resumed on Monday, a search for Ruihai Logistics yielded a curious gap. The company was registered in 2012 but its current legal owners only bought their shares in 2013. The historic list of changes that should have reflected the previous owners did not appear.

ISIS DOCUMENT REPORTEDLY DISCOVERED BY THINK TANK CALLS FOR END OF THE WORLD BATTLE

Israeli newspaper says purported manifesto on par with Hitler's Mein Kampf

by KURT NIMMO | INFOWARS.COM | AUGUST 17, 2015

A think tank linked to the neocon-centric Hudson Institute claims it has discovered an Islamic State version of "Mein Kampf" in Pakistan.

The American Media Institute says the 32-page Urdu language document calls for an end of the world conflict in what the Israeli newspaper Arutz Sheva characterizes as a "final solution," a distinct reference to the Third Reich's mass extermination of Jews.

The document also allegedly calls for a single worldwide caliphate to rule over more than a billion Muslims.

"It reads like the caliphate's own Mein Kampf," said a U.S. intelligence official who read the document. "While the world is watching videos of beheadings and crucifixions in Iraq and Syria the Islamic State is moving into North Africa the Middle East, and now we see it has a strategy in South Asia. It's a magician's trick, watch this hand and you'll never see what the other is doing."

Six Russian MiG-31 interceptor aircraft land in Damascus to rescue Assad regime

DEBKAFfile Special Report August 18, 2015, 8:56 PM (IDT)

TagS: Russian arme airlift, Syria, Vladimir Putin, Bashar Assad, Barack Obama, no-fly zone,

Russian MiG-31 interceptors

Six Russian MiG-31 Foxhound interceptor aircraft from Moscow landed Tuesday, Aug. 18, at the Mezze Airbase situated in Damascus international airport, DEBKAFfile's military and intelligence sources disclose. They were followed shortly after by giant An-124 Condor transports, which delivered 1,000 Komet-9M133 third-generation anti-tank guided missiles.

The Russian airlift of advanced weapons for Bashar Assad's army will last for several days. It betokens Moscow's intention to keep up its support for the Syrian ruler and counter - by military means if necessary - any secret Iranian diplomatic machinations for terminating the Syria war and with it the Assad regime - such as have been reported in the past week in Western and Arab capitals, especially in the Gulf.

Our sources report that the decision to send the Syrian ruler advanced aircraft and missiles could only have come from the top, i.e. President Vladimir Putin. It took direct aim at the latest moves made by the US, Turkey, Iran and Saudi Arabia for ending the Syrian war. Every formula they came up with entailed Assad's exit, either in stages or at once. ✓

The deal has now been updated and will be finalized soon, the Iranian Students' News Agency quoted Dehghan as saying.

A skin-worn sensor that turns the human body into a touch sensitive surface for controlling mobile devices has been developed by scientists in Germany. iSkin is made from biocompatible silicone rubber with pressure-sensitive sensors that are stuck to the skin of the users, allowing them to use their own body to control mobile devices.

Developed by scientists at the Max Planck Institute for Informatics and Saarland University, the experimental system has been produced in different shapes and sizes to suit various locations on the body, such as the finger, forearm and even behind the ear-lobe. The sensor is capable of detecting touch input pressure even when being stretched or bent. With the current prototypes; wearers can answer incoming calls, play music and adjust volume. A roll-up keyboard for use with a smart watch has also been designed.

iSkin's thin, soft and flexible design presents new possibilities for mobile interaction that have not been possible with existing hardware, according to co-developer Martin Weigel.

"Current electronics are mostly using rigid components which are very uncomfortable to wear on the body and are limiting the locations to, for example, the wrist or on the head to be worn. But our sensor is a flexible and stretchable sensor, so it can cover many locations. For example, even the backside of the ear or the forearm. So, we have a much larger input space than current electronics allow for," he said.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH: BODY OF DOCTOR WHO LINKED VACCINES TO AUTISM FOUND FLOATING IN RIVER

Dr. Jeff Bradstreet helped families whose children were believed to have been damaged by immunizations

by ADAN SALAZAR | INFOWARS.COM | JUNE 26, 2015

A prominent autism researcher and vaccine opponent was found dead floating in a North Carolina river last week under what many are calling suspicious circumstances.

A fisherman found the body of Dr. James Jeffery Bradstreet in the Rocky Broad River in Chimney Rock, North Carolina, last Friday afternoon.

"Bradstreet had a gunshot wound to the chest, which appeared to be self-inflicted, according to deputies," reported WHNS.

In a press release, the Rutherford County Sheriff's Office announced, "Divers from the Henderson County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and recovered a handgun from the river."

An investigation into the death is ongoing, and the results of an autopsy are also reportedly forthcoming.

Dr. Bradstreet ran a private practice in Buford, Georgia, which focused on "treating children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, PPD, and related neurological and developmental disorders."

Among various remedies, Dr. Bradstreet's Wellness Center reportedly carried out "mercury toxicity" treatments, believing the heavy metal to be a leading factor in the development of childhood autism.

Dr. Bradstreet undertook the effort to pinpoint the cause of the disease after his own child developed the ailment following routine vaccination.

Look mum, I'm microchipped! Boy, 15, injects himself with tiny controller that can operate his mobile phone, unlock doors and even hand out business cards

- Bryon Wake carried out DIY operation while his parents were downstairs
- He believes he is the youngest person in the world to have chip implanted
- Chip emits radio-frequency that triggers events like unlocking phones or starting a car

By BEN WILKINSON FOR THE DAILY MAIL

PUBLISHED: 17:29 EST, 30 June 2015 | UPDATED: 01:27 EST, 1 July 2015

Most parents fear their teenager might get a tattoo or a piercing without their permission.

But technology enthusiast Bryon Wake, 15, injected himself with a microchip in a DIY operation in his bedroom while his unwitting mother and father were downstairs.

The tiny chip – the size of a grain of rice – can be programmed so the schoolboy can control his mobile phone, unlock doors, and even hand out electronic business cards.

The cyborg teenager – who believes he is the youngest person in the world to have the chip implanted – ordered the kit from the United States and went ahead with the procedure despite being warned a medic should help.

He said: 'I didn't tell my parents until three days later. They took it better than expected because they had already told me not to do it.'

'And then when I did tell them I'd done it, they just went with it.'

'Afterwards I had checked it out at the doctor who said it was fine and they were happy.'

'My grandpa is a surgeon and he said that he was proud, and my mum wasn't expecting that at all.'

The chip works by using near field communication (NFC) which emits a low power radio-frequency signature that triggers pre-programmed events like unlocking a phone or starting a car.

So far, Byron, of Martock in Somerset, has been using the chip's ability to unlock his phone automatically and also to control the Bluetooth function to play music from his speakers.

He is also able to send business cards by touching his hand onto other Android user's phones, which will automatically transfer his details.

U.S. military pays Syrian rebels up to $400 per month: Pentagon

WASHINGTON | BY DAVID ALEXANDER

Syrian rebels receiving U.S. military training to battle Islamic State militants are being paid $250 to $400 per month, depending on their skills, performance and leadership position, the Pentagon said on Monday.

It was not immediately clear how many Syrian rebels were currently being paid. Army Colonel Steve Warren, a Defense Department spokesman, said last week that up to 200 Syrian fighters were undergoing training. A further 1,500 have completed the necessary screening.

Defense Secretary Ash Carter said in May that Syrian fighters participating in the U.S.-led mission would receive "some compensation," but he gave no figures.

Beijing has said that more than 100 members of the minority Muslim Uighur community, who were returned by Thailand after fleeing China, were on their way to join armed groups in the Middle East.

China's official Xinjua news agency cited the country's ministry of public security in a report on Sunday that said the 109 Uighurs "intended to join jihad" in Turkey, Syria or Iraq.

Chadian police have said anyone wearing a full-face veil will be arrested, a day after a Boko Haram suicide bombing - carried out by an attacker disguised as a woman wearing one - left 15 dead.

Saturday's attack at a market in the capital, N'Djamena, also injured 80 others and spread panic across the city. The assailant detonated an explosives belt when he was stopped for security checks at the entrance to the city's main market.
